

FOLK AND WELLS INDORSED, THE PARAMOUNT ISSUE IS DEFINED.

The following platform was adopted by the Democratic City Convention yesterday:

The Democratic party of the city of St. Louis, in convention assembled, October 4, 1904, does hereby affirm the principles of Democracy as set forth in the last Democratic national and State platforms, and especially does it declare that the eradication of official corruption is the paramount issue in the pending campaign, and we, therefore, most heartily indorse the great services performed by that faithful, vigilant public servant, Joseph W. Folk, our present Circuit Attorney, whose official record of achievements is a guarantee for future fitness as Governor of Missouri.

We indorse the wise and economic business administration of Honorable Holla Wells and his Democratic associates in the municipal affairs of the city of St. Louis, and pledge the party and nominees of the convention to carry out the reforms heretofore inaugurated under Democratic auspices, in order that the further welfare and progress of our city shall be advanced.

HAWES DEFEATS THE BUTLERS IN NOMINATING CLEAN TICKET IN DEMOCRATIC CITY CONVENTION

Short, Positive Platform Unreservedly Indorses Folk and Wells and Declares for Eradication of Official Corruption.

WORKERS STOP BOLT

Committee on Credentials Seats Hawes Delegations, James J. Butler Leading Walk-out of Followers—His Forces Finally Become Tame.

Harry B. Hawes demonstrated yesterday his mastery of the Democratic City Convention by presiding over the body, controlling all committees and nominating the ticket. He went further, and a platform was adopted indorsing the State and national platforms, and Circuit Attorney Folk and Mayor Holla Wells by name.

The new City Committee is a Hawes committee by a vote in which Butler can lay claim to only eight. Apart from the meeting of the Credentials Committee, the convention was comparatively quiet.

The Butlers were ousted at every turn in which the convention had a hand. James J. Butler made every effort to demonstrate that he was not to be trifled with, and was set down upon without fear or favor. The ticket nominated bears no Butler earmarks. Well-informed politicians yesterday pointed out that it was a good ticket, which would draw strength from the voters irrespective of party.

Only one attempt was made to "break the slate." After George Harris of the Twenty-eighth Ward had nominated Carl Otto, Judge Given Campbell, without going to the platform, presented the name of Assistant Circuit Attorney Andrew C. Maroney. Other leaders of the Twenty-eighth Ward had participated in the Hawes caucus the night before and expressed themselves satisfied. Mr. Maroney said after the convention that his name had been presented with his consent and that he regretted the action. Eleven votes in the Twenty-eighth Ward were given to him and as many more from other wards.

Crowds began gathering around the West End Coliseum entrance, No. 238 East avenue, before 10 o'clock—the hour for the opening of the convention. Before that time the City Committee was holding a meeting in an upstairs room fixing the dates of holding the Senatorial and Representative conventions. It did not finish its work until nearly 11 o'clock.

At that time Secretary John Ellersmann of the Board of Election Commissioners had not arrived with the credentials. With the hall only about half filled with delegates, the Hawes delegations were taken by surprise when James Butler went on the platform as the designated chairman by John F. McCarthy, chairman of the Democratic City Committee.

BUTLER TAKES CHARGE.

"The primary law provides that in no case must the convention be called to order later than one hour after the time set in the call," he said. "I have been authorized, in writing, by the chairman of the City Committee to call this convention to order. We will proceed to the election of a temporary chairman. First, however, I will designate James F. Farley of the Twenty-second Ward as temporary secretary of this convention."

In this manner, Jim Butler took charge of proceedings. By the wording of the primary law, the chairman of the City Committee, without consulting anyone else, may designate the person to call the convention to order. Without a yes or nay from the delegates, Butler could assume this honor.

P. J. Laughlin of the Sixth Ward nominated Frank J. Kleiber for temporary chairman. A Fourteenth Ward delegate presented Justice of the Peace William J. Cullinane, but withdrew his name. On motion of Harry Walsh the nomination of Kleiber was declared the choice of the convention. State Senator Dave Nelson, John P. McCarthy and Harry Walsh were appointed a committee to bring Judge Kleiber to the platform, but he could not be found. A recess was then taken until the Credentials Committee and the temporary chairman arrived. Judge Kleiber was compelled to adjourn his Justice court in order to get to the convention.

While waiting for the arrival of these two important adjuncts of the convention, the delegates gossiped over the quick developments. The fact that it was necessary to walk a block through two buildings before getting into the Coliseum was one reason why it was so easy for Jim Butler to take charge. At that time Mr. Hawes was standing with some friends and delegates on Easton avenue, and before word could be got to him the recess had been taken.

KLEIBER A COMPROMISE.

The selection of Kleiber was considered
